Some things happen by chance. And some things happen because we make them happen. Follow the journey of a twenty-one-year-old boy as he travels throughout Europe. For the first time in his life, he is on his own. Three thousand miles away from everything he knows and holds dear. His friends, family, and dog await his return one day. But in the meantime, he has to adapt to this new land. London is after all the city of dreams. On his journey, he will encounter new people from all walks of life. Bringing his American charm he will make friendships that will last a lifetime. And perhaps on his way find what it truly means to be human. After all, it's only when we push away from everything that we hold dear that we discover what it means to be a human.
