Chiara is a fragile and insecure girl who struggles to accept herself. Refraining from the usual socializing of a girl her age, she isolates herself from the rest of the world, taking comfort only in writing her thoughts in her diaries. Abandoned by her mother when she was a child, Chiara suffers from her absence and carries this weight around with her. She suffers from anxiety and panic attacks that don't allow her to interact with the outside world, somewhere she feels she doesn't belong. Trapped in a reality all of her own, she decides to run away from her past and take refuge in Ireland, where lies the foundation of her new life, alongside someone who truly loves her for who she is. But, when Chiara finally believes she can start again, something will drag her back and force her to confront the demons of her past.
